CORPORATE GIFTS CATALOGUE 2022

The laser engraving is a process fully controlled by computer, where the laser beam physically removes the surface of the material to expose desired design. At Dot Laser it can be done on a various materials such as wood, plastic, leather, glass, coated metal, anodised aluminium and many more. This is the most common option for people who want something personalised or customised from simple initials, names etc to creative fine art design.

LASER ENGRAVING

UV printing is sharp printing edge to edge and potential production capacity with close registration. however UV printing highly recommended for promotional items, give away branding, gift items logo printing, power bank and usb printing with multi colors or cut color printing. UV printing is non removable printing which we can do ti on plastic surface, pvc and metal surface. UV printing Technic also is an fast and quick printing without making any screen or other process but we can print directly from computer to machine.

UV PRINTING

Digital technology may appear to have a monopoly on the design world at the moment, but experts in the printing industry know that traditional printing processes, such as screen printing, are still relevant, reliable and often the best printing solution for businesses. Here we'll delve into the ins and outs of screen printing so that you are better informed on the best ways in which to custom-brand your corporate gifts, promotional merchandise, workwear or product.

SCREEN PRINTING

Epoxy resin key chains for branding promotion giveaways, branded key rings for promotion, less expensive poly epoxy key chains at very affordable prices for small business sale, our product line includes metal picture frames, soft enamel badges and lapel pins, metal sports medals and medalion, bottle opener key rings, designer keychains, custom promotional giveaway keychains, customized key holder key chains, metal bottle opener keychains, metal antique pewter plated badges, etc.

EPOXY

Debossing can be achieved on all kind of material, from card to leather including cloth. Obviously thicker and softer the material gets, easier and better the result is. Debossing works particularly well on a leather cover journal but we can brand all kind of notebooks with this technique. We can also deboss your logo on faux leather, any PU vegan leather Some faux leather journals are thermo reactive, like the Castelli Tucson notebook or Bookblock Toucan . This results in a lovely contrasted two-tone effect. A debossing on card is similar to letterpress.

D-EMBOSSING

Our mugs are printed by a method called Sublimation. Sublimation (or dye-sublimation process) is a very simple but highly effective process to professionally and permanently apply an image into (not onto) the surface of ceramics (and a range of other items) to create high quality saleable products. In other printing processes, a transfer paper, metal sheet or film is printed and applied onto a blank item. However, with dye-sublimation, the image is dyed directly into the surface of the item.
